

Water Reform <water.reform@industry.nsw.gov.au>

WATER ALLOCATION FROM OUR BIG RIVERS

1 message

[REDACTED]
To: water.reform@industry.nsw.gov.au

Fri, Mar 16, 2018 at 11:02 AM

Hello Water People,

Water management needs to ensure that there are enough environmental flows to keep rivers and natural lakes from drying up, so as to keep birdlife alive. Birds are the main controllers of locusts and other insects, so they are of enormous benefit to farmers.

We cannot allow huge draws of water for mammoth cotton growers at the expense of these critical wildlife.

Thanks for the opportunity to contribute my opinion,

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED] [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]